Inventory:

Go into your menu> Click Items> Scroll over to and click on "Key Items" to see the useful items pictured below. Their functionalities are explained when you click an item.

>Start of by choosing that you want to see the intro. Head south and interacted with the slime.

Ready? >Yes

Keep using magic bolt (Fight> Magic Bolt> Test Slime) on the slime until the game moves you back to your house.

Combat:

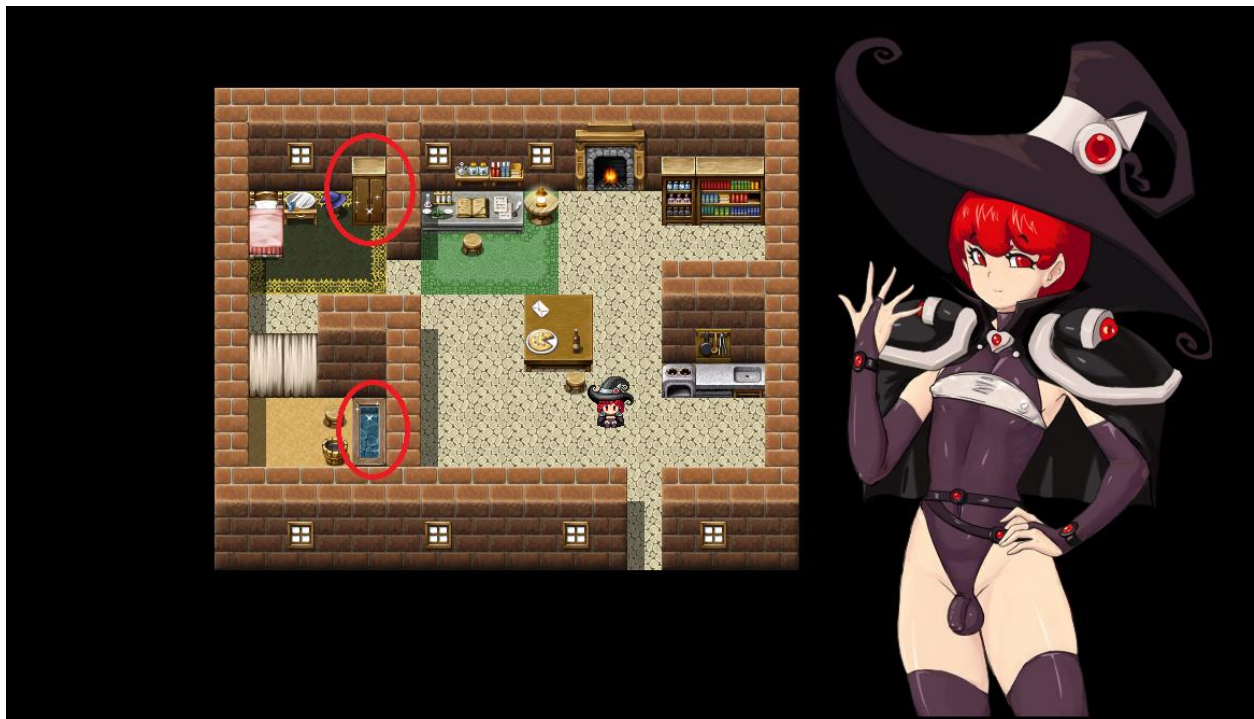

As you take damage your clothes get damaged. When you get naked monsters can grip you and do moves that raise your Ero stat. When this stat is high and you are naked, monsters do sex moves on you. This is how you get those scenes into the gallery. You are also given the option to force those scenes: you get the option to submit to the monster when Ero is at 100 and you are naked. There are items in the game that raise your Ero stat, such as Slime Semen. Ero goes down when you cum in those scenes (you get an option to masturbate in H Tech when ero is high enough) . A method (old method) to get the scenes is too let the monsters get you naked through grinding and not fixing your outfit. Then get into a battle with one and drink some slime semen items (or any semen item or Love potion) until your Ero is 100. Then go to H Tech and click submit. You'll then want to go to H Tech and masturbate, and then use repair items so you can fight again. This is all what I've come to understand; I don't think the game explicitly tells you how this works. Please note that it is hard to win battles naked because monsters will keep grabbing you, so keep your clothes repaired, and semen off you. There are items for this like "Cleansing Water" and "Mending Kit". Your mana regenerates automatically in combat. So if you're low, attack with Magic Bolt or Guard until it comes back a bit.

EASY WAY: I just learned there is an easy way to get the h scenes for mob monsters. At your home town there is this guy in front of the tent with the hood who sells you scissors and erotic items. Basically you can use the scissors to ruin your own clothes, then you can use the erotic items (such as the love potion) to raise your Ero to 100. From there you just use H Tech and then submit. I never bothered talking to this guy so I didn't know. Later in this guide I try to give advice about how to get the h scenes for mod monsters, but this is the best way. Ignore that BS because I'm not reading through 24 pages of walkthrough to revise it.

-So you're at your house now.

The top red circle is your wardrobe. Click on it to fix your clothes.

The bottom red circle is bath. Use it to clean the jizz off you.

I forgot to circle it, but the pink bed is used to sleep and heal your health.

>Walk out of the house. Head two houses right to the building with the pentagram and red roof. This is the adventurer's guild. Walk inside and talk to the guy at the front desk with an exclamation point above his head. DING! He gives you money.

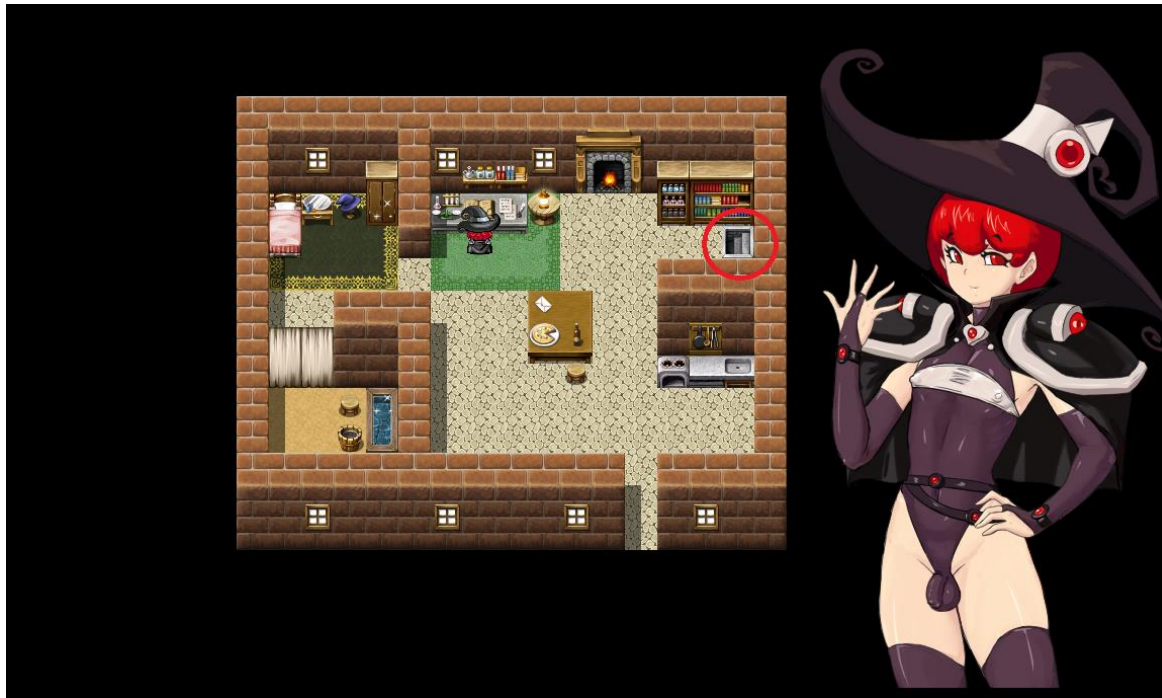

>Go downstairs and talk to the older gentleman with an exclamation point above his head. Go to the room to the right and talk to the next person with exclamation point disease.

>Alright here's where things get tricky. The magic system in this game works like this. In every Adventurer's Guild's basement there are these four people. They are who teach you new spells. The person in the black circle teaches you Dark Magic, the person in the yellow circle teaches you Astral Magic, the person in the green circle teaches you Shamanistic Magic, and the person in the white circle teaches you White Magic. You start out with the ability to learn three spells, and you get more as you advance in the world. This means you have to be selective about what you pick. I'm not aware of a way to undue a selection (you can switch Shaman magic though: more on that soon). You start at Tier 1 for each, and after you unlock one spell, you can unlock the spell of the next tier if you have an open slot. Aside from Shaman magic with one tier, I believe each other has 4 tiers or "ranks". You can select which spells you want, but for this walkthrough we're going the balanced route. So to start off unlock the Tier 1 spell for Dark, Astral, and white magic.

>Go upstairs, leave the guild, and you will automatically be taken to an H scene at home.

>You should notice that there is now an opening to the basement of your house (the red circle). This is where you can replay all your unlocked sex scenes. THIS IS WHERE THE GALLERY IS. I'M YELLING BECAUSE IT'S IMPORTANT.

>Exit your house and walk out of town through any exit. Walk into the green forest to the west pictured below.

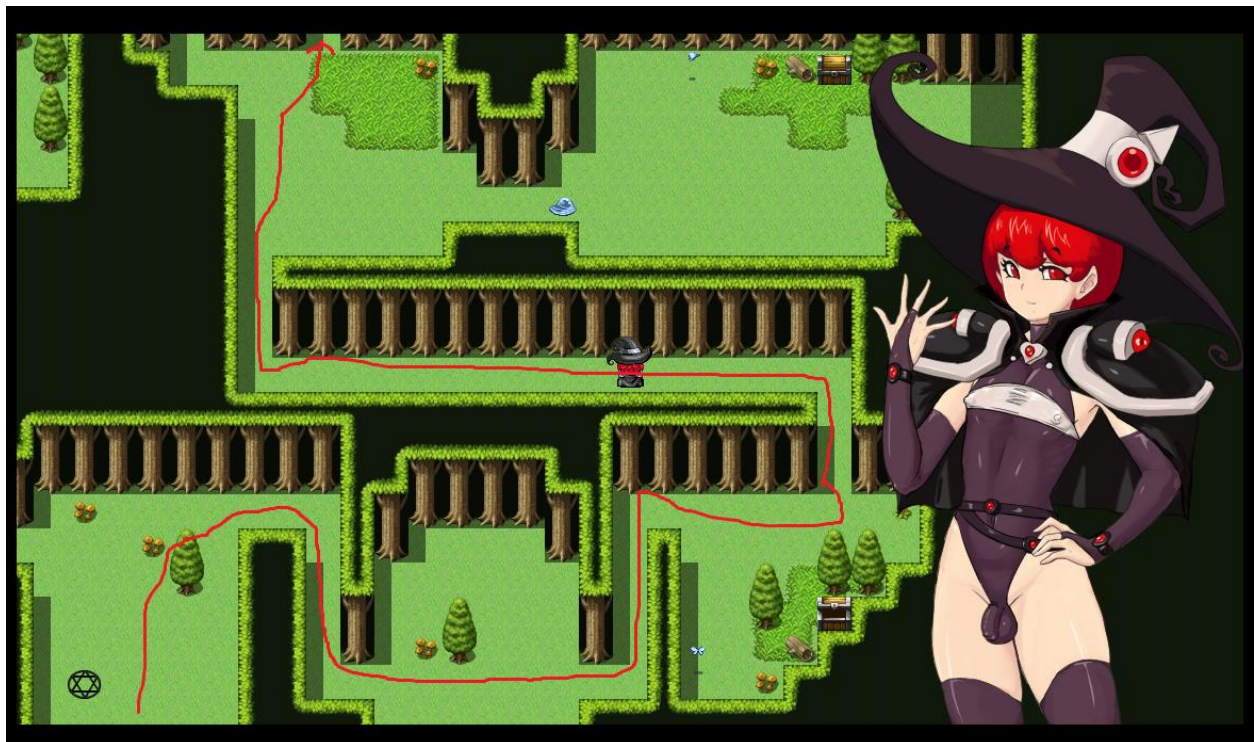

>SIDE NOTE: You can switch your Shaman spells with this person in this first town:

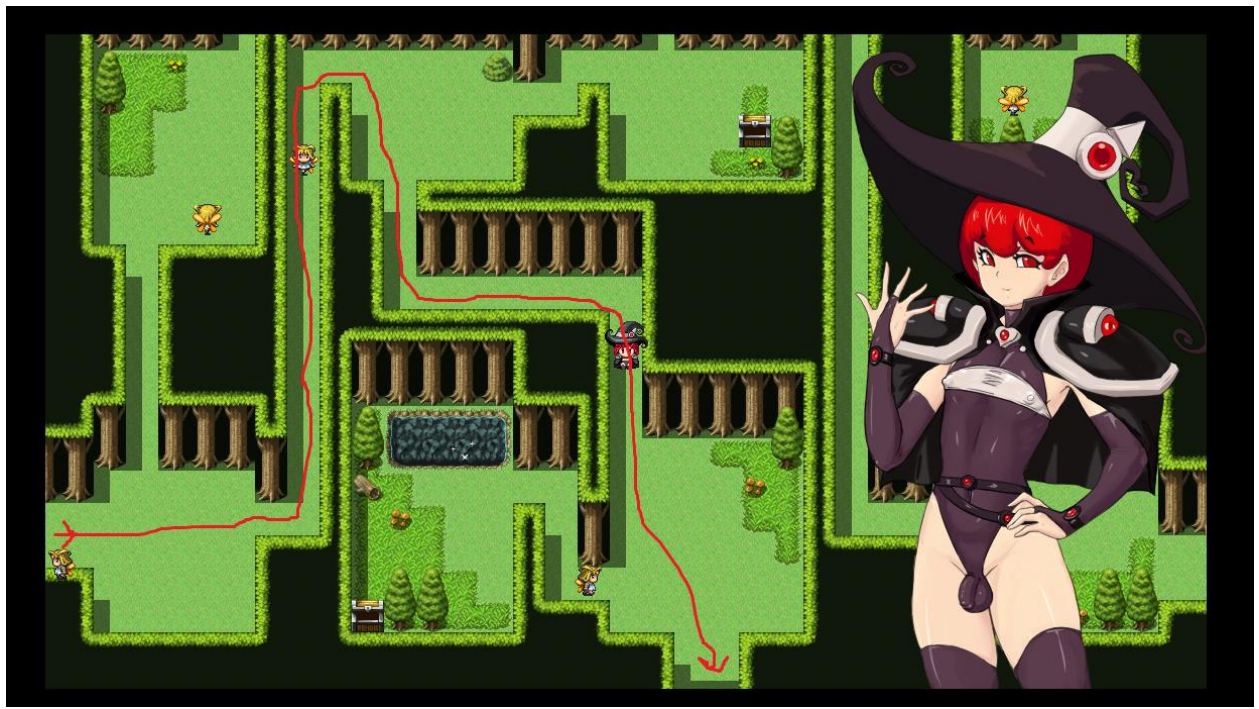

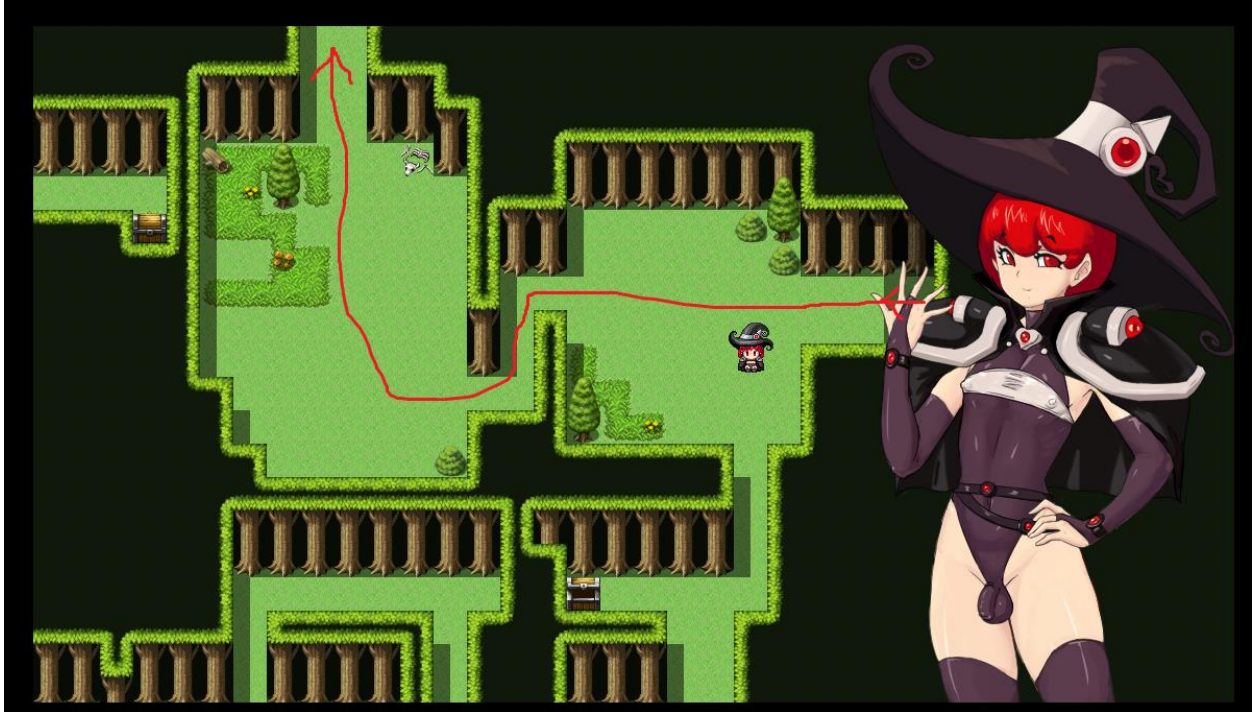

>Okay now before I get into the path you need to take to get to the boss. This is how you're going to progress through this game and unlock some scenes. You have to fight these monsters to level up, and get sex scenes. Don't worry about dying because you will just be taken back to your house where you should wash the jizz off yourself, restore your clothes, and sleep. The best method here is to kill two birds with one stone. Kill creatures to level up, and when they damage your clothes just let it happen until you've gotten all the scenes. In this forest, you should have a sex scene for the slime and for the fairies. Review the combat section above if you are having trouble. You should probably grind until level 9. That's what I was at for the boss. The spell you're going to want to spam against all enemies in this forest is the "Elmekia Lance".

>Okay so here is the path to the boss

>And just like that you're in the room with the big wolf boss. Before you fight him, interact with the black pentagram to turn it into a portal to the entrance of this forest so you can leave/prepare and come back. It will turn white after it becomes linked, and you walk into it to use it after that.

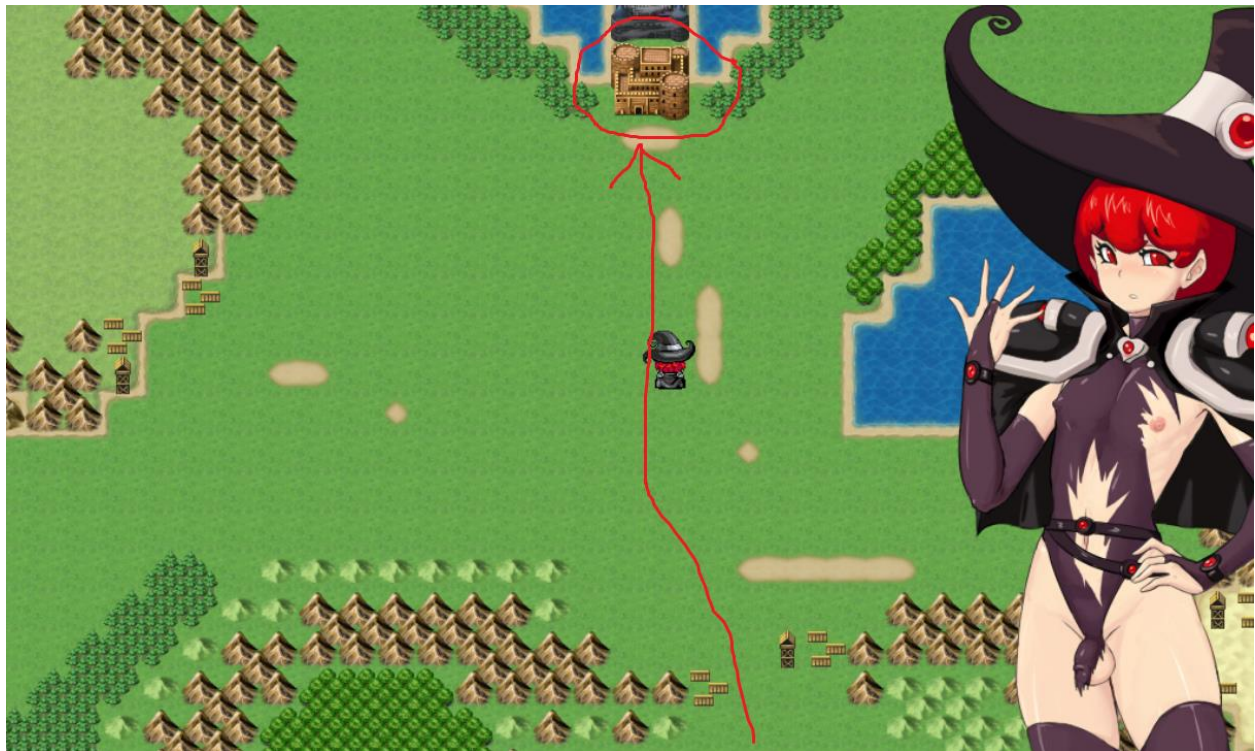

>If you're around level 9, you should be good to fight him with 2 potions and 1 mending kit. Your strategy is to only use Elemkia Lance. Kill the fairy guards first and whenever they appear (the battle won't end until all creatures are dead), so you don't get ganged up on. You should be one shooting those fairies most of the time. When they are all dead (or few in number) keep blasting the boss dog. Use potions when your health gets low.

>After the fight, choose “BE LEWD” to get the sex scene

>You will automatically be transported home to view another Philosopher’s Stone H scene

>Exit your house, leave town, and head North to the town pictured below

>Notice how the clothes are all ripped and I forgot to heal, yeah, don't do that. Heal up at home.

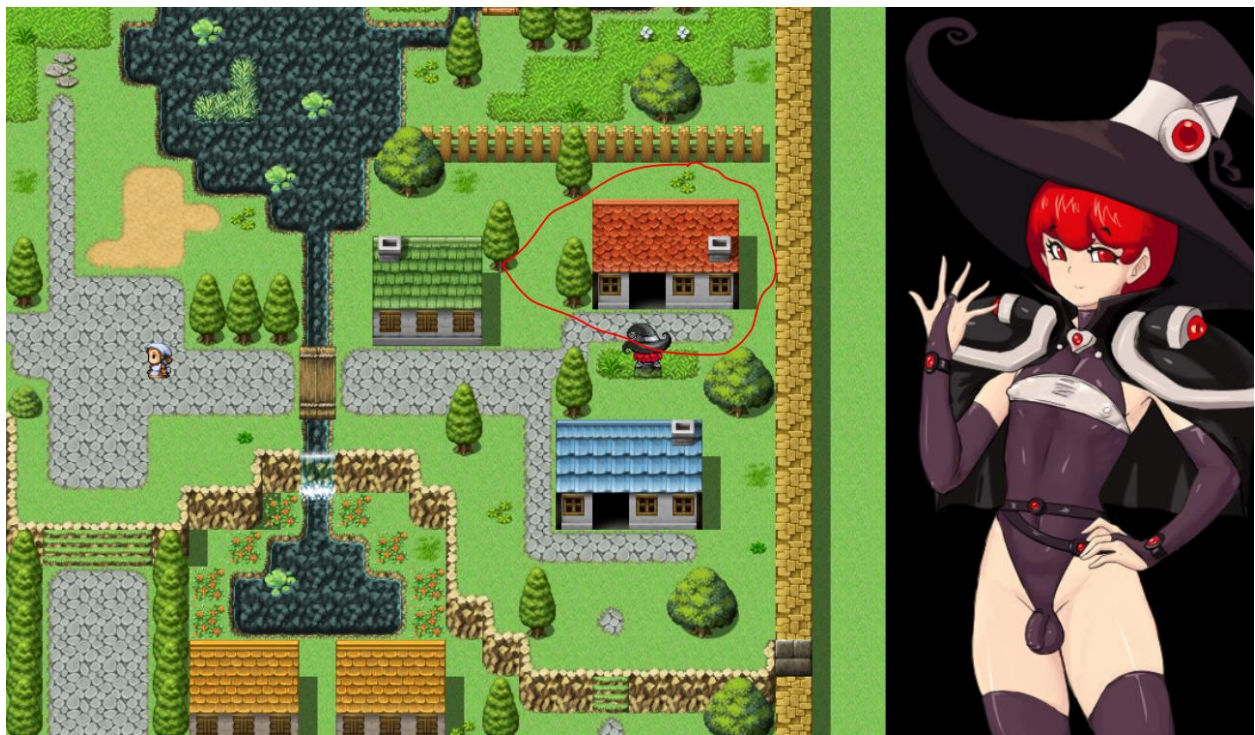

>Once you enter this town, proceed to its Adventurer's guild. It's located in the top left of town, with a red roof pentagram

>Talk to the person at the desk for moneyzzzzz

>Go downstairs, get through the dialogue, and head right (you now have three more spell slots)

>You can unlock what you want, but for this walkthrough, unlock the tier/rank 2 spells for Dark, Light, and Astral

>Exit the guild, and head to the top right house in the town. It is open with a red roof and talk to the older gentleman inside.

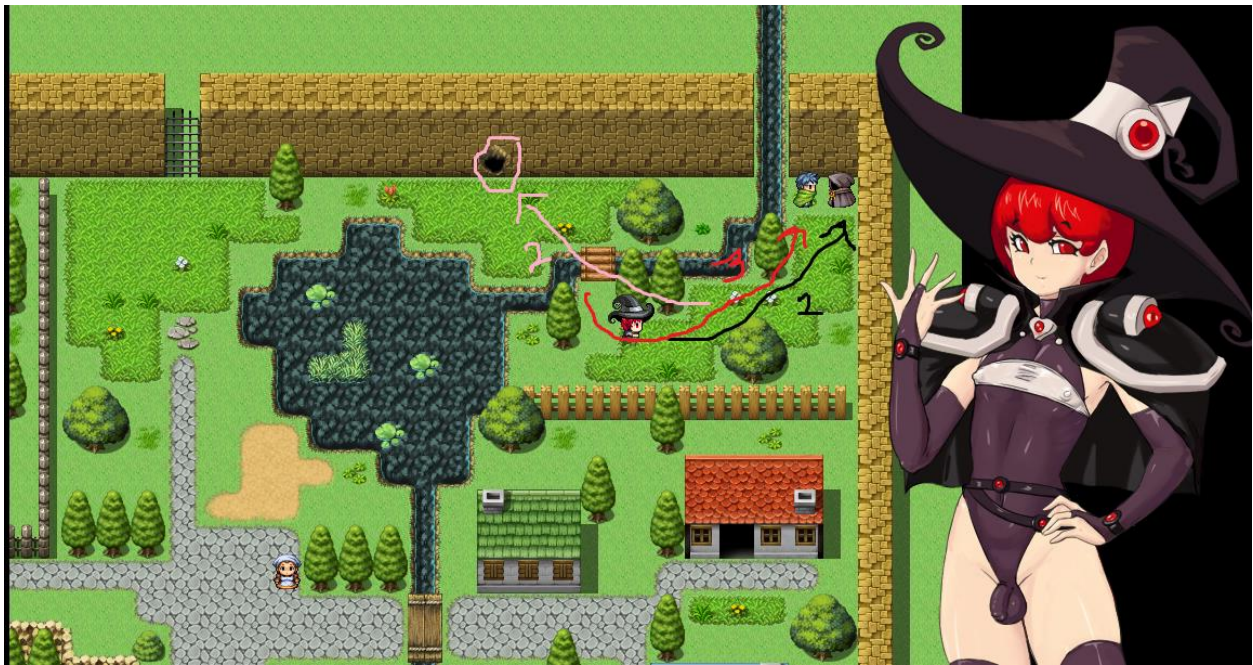

>Exit that house and enter the pub/inn

>Interact with the beer glasses on the right side of the counter (Your character should say "I could have sworn he was here")

>Exit the bar and proceed to the top right corner of the town, above the red roofed house you were just in

>Walk close to the people in the corner, interact with the hole in the wall, and walk close again pictured below

>Go back to the pub and talk to the blue haired guy. Afterward, you'll be sent outside. Go back in and talk to him again

>Exit the inn and go into the blue tinned building just above it

>Take your clothes off in the bucket, go past the curtain, talk to the man directly in front of you after you do (just walk straight), go back through the curtain, put your clothes back on in the bucket, and leave the bathhouse

>Now walk to the very Northmost part of town. You should see a metal gate. We have a key to that now so open it >Proceed through the castle's entrance. Don't step in that purple stuff: it's poison.

>As you walk forward, you'll see a character walk off to the west (it's a doppleganger)

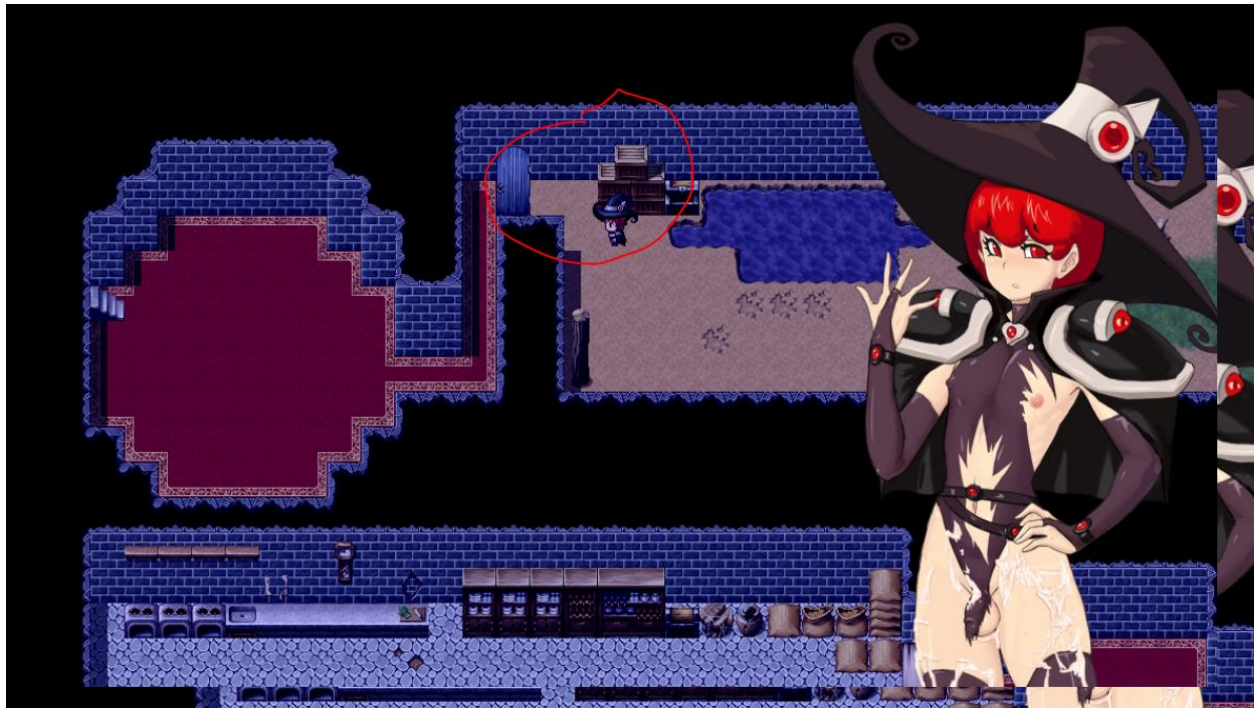

>Make to get the h scene with the ghost enemies and dopplegangers you see here (review the "combat" section of this guide if you are stuck). You can do as much exploring chests and things as you want

>Use your Rank 2 Dark and/or Rank 2 Astral Spells here. They are generally one shot kills

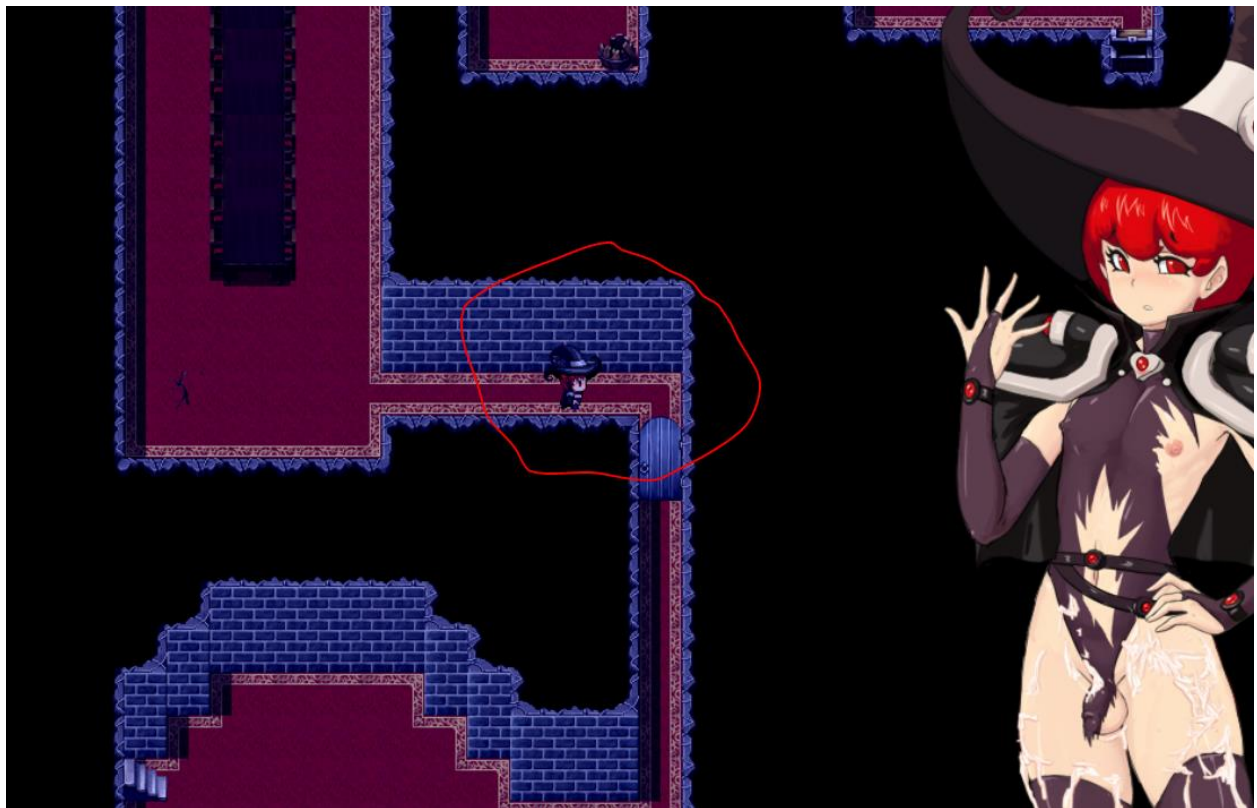

>Tip for getting the h scenes: Just kill all the ghosts to level up and heal as little as possible so they can destroy your clothes. Then when you are naked with a ghost mid fight. Drink slime semen until you have 100 ero, then H tech> submit> then one shot them with a Rank 2 spell. Quickly kill the doppleganger blocking staircase (see step below), and find a doppleganger above (I can only seem to get the h scene with the doppel to work on the second story when they are in groups of three) and drink a bunch of slime semen and then submit.

>On this story (story 1 at the moment) there are three dopplegangers that block staircases. You need to defeat each one of these.

>When you go up each of these respective staircases you will find a headless statue in that room. You need to find three armor helmets to put on these.

>One can be found under the bed here, and another can be found after your character sleeps on this bed and has sex with the statue (no cg):

>The third helmet can be found here (I didn't circle it but it's right on that wood table, interact with it and take it):

>Once you find all three, go back to the rooms just above those staircases and interact with the headless statues (all are on the second floor). Select the option to put the helmets on.

>After you put on all three you will get a message, and in the room all the way on the right of the second floor (pictured directly above) that statue will disappear, allowing you to pass.

>Pass into the next room and go down the stairs. Go down the next flight of stairs, then link the teleporter.

>Now onto the boss; use Blam Blazer mainly. You can use potions or the healing spell if your health gets low, and you can use the Ash spell if you want to finish of a specific doppleganger because Blam Blazer won't necessarily hit who you want it to.

But it seems to do the most damage, especially against the boss. I was level 22 when I fought him.

>After you win, choose the option: “Use butt”

>You will be taken home for another h scene.

>Remember to heal and repair

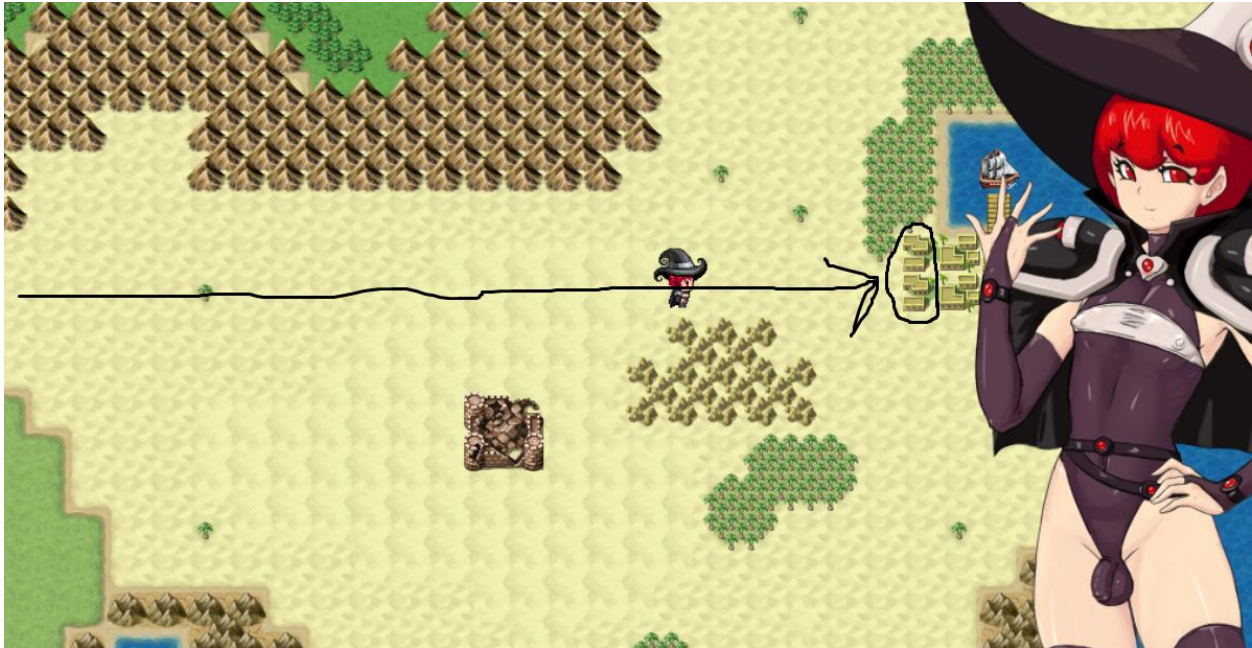

>Go back to the adventurer’s guild

>Go to the basement and unlock 2 ranks of black magic (this finishes black magic with Dragon slave), and one rank of white magic (Resurrection)

>Leave the adventurer’s guild, leave town, and proceed East

>Enter this town (named Suna) by walking onto either of these circled tiles

*You probably wondering at this point what the deal is with all these wiggly lines and circles. Well I'm here to tell you: don't worry about it.

>Walk into the adventurer's guild (building with pentagram on the bottom right), and speak to the guy at the front desk for money (there is no exclamation point). Walk down stairs and you will get some dialogue that the headmaster isn't here.

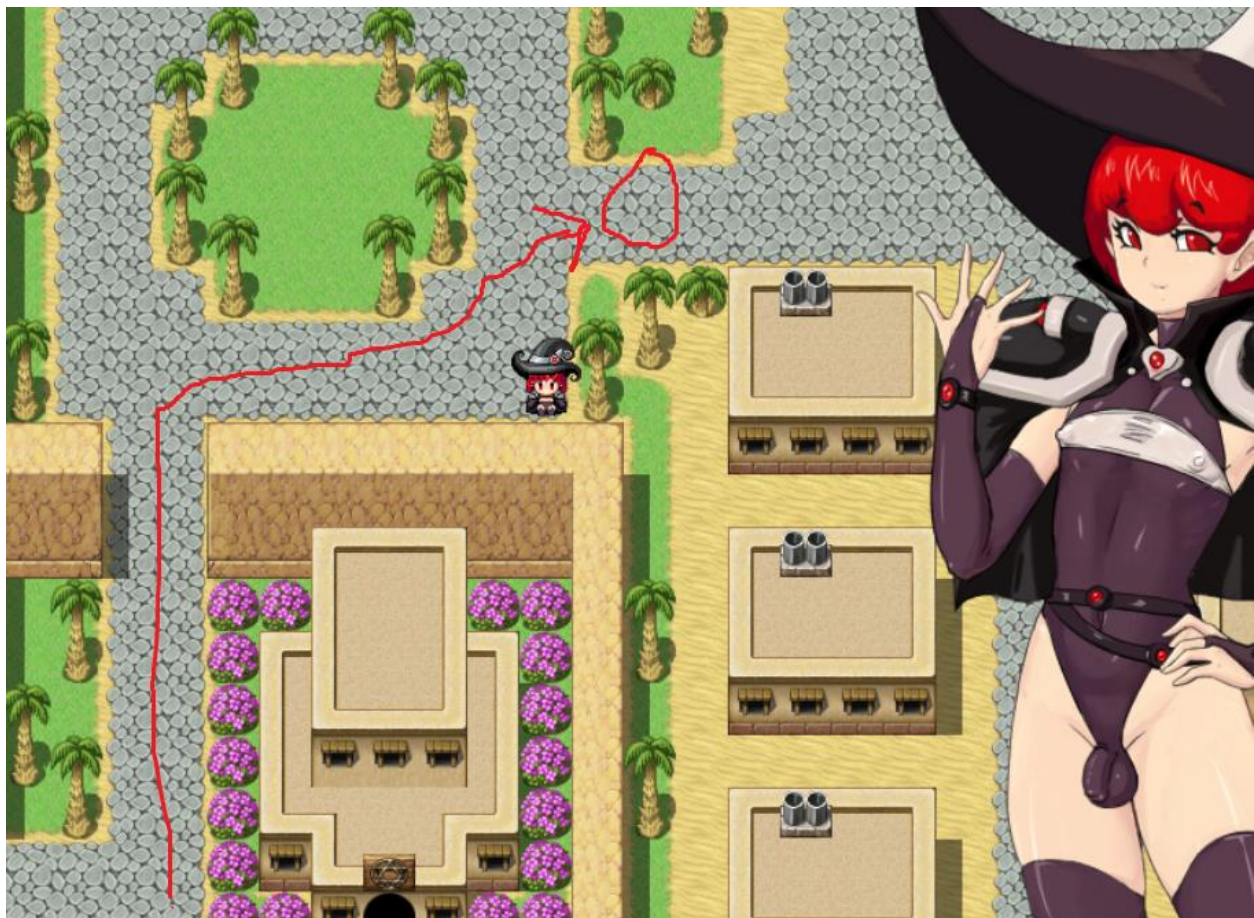

>Like every other town, there are item/armor shops in town (you can obviously get mending kits, potions, cleansing waters in any of these shops). In each new town you get to there are better items. Go buy some better equipment. I bought "Spirit Amplifier" and "Elemental Garb", the best offense and defence they currently sell. If you don't have enough, you can buy different equipment or go back to the forest or haunted castle and search for chests you may have missed that may contain money. This guide is mostly for h scenes and story progression, so I'm not going to highlight every chest and show what's in them

> Now walk up to the hooded guy and other guy (headmaster) located in front of the casino (it's labeled; you can't miss it).

>A conversation will play out, and then you want to head back to the basement of the adventurer's guild basement and talk to the headmaster who is now there.

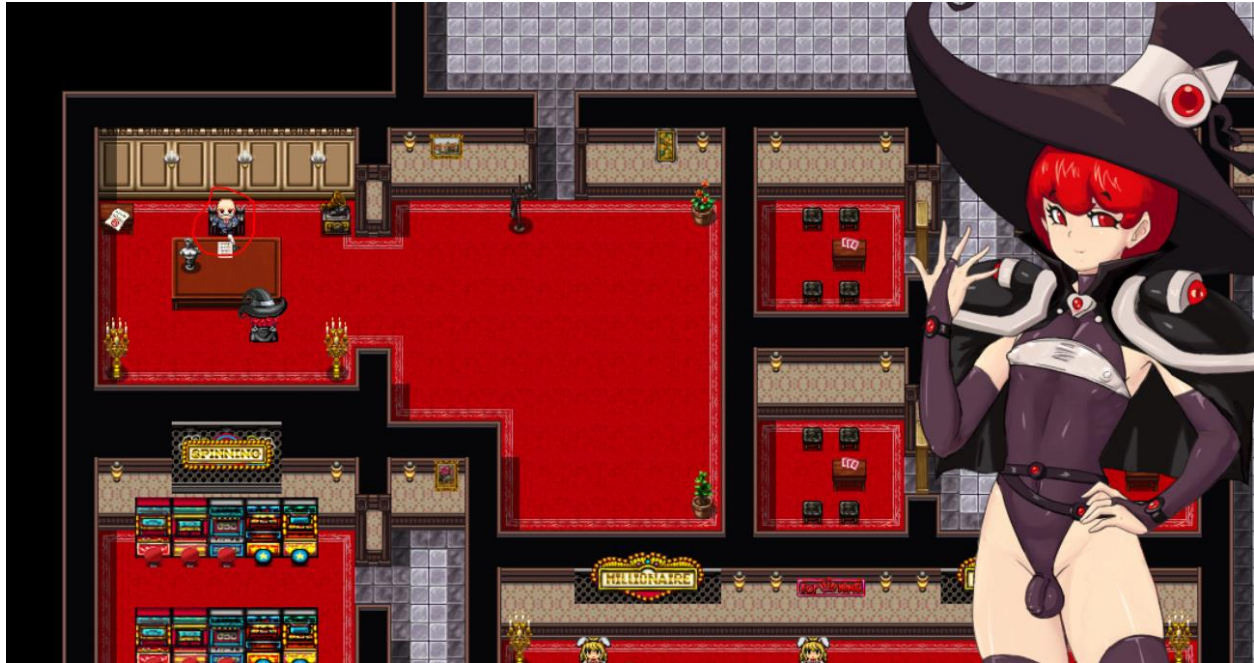

>Exit the guild and walk over here:

>A cut scene about saving a girl will play out. Return the guild basement and talk to headmaster again. He will take you to the casino.

>Keep selecting “cheat” until the match ends

>Talk to the Casino boss located here:

*Red circle on a red background!? My monstrous deeds will no doubt keep you awake at night

>Leave the casino, leave town, and head west to the ruins located here:

>Alright now it's business as usual. Explore a bit, level up, get lewd scenes with the monsters here () through the usual method (see combat section above: again the idea is to let monster damage your clothes by healing as little as possible, and when you are naked guzzle the cum you've collected from monsters until Ero reaches 100, then H Tech> Submit, win the fight, heal and repair)<If you need to go back to old areas (forest,etc) to farm enemies for their cum then leave and do so

>For Imps, if you have the magic use "Dragon Slave", otherwise Blam Blazer works. The tentacles seem to go down pretty quick with Gaav fire. These tentacles also have a move that increases your Ero. If you already have your h scene with them, you'll want to keep your clothes repaired and H tech> Masturbate whenever they get your Ero to 100

>Here is how this floor works, there are five "holes" you need to fall into. Pictured here:

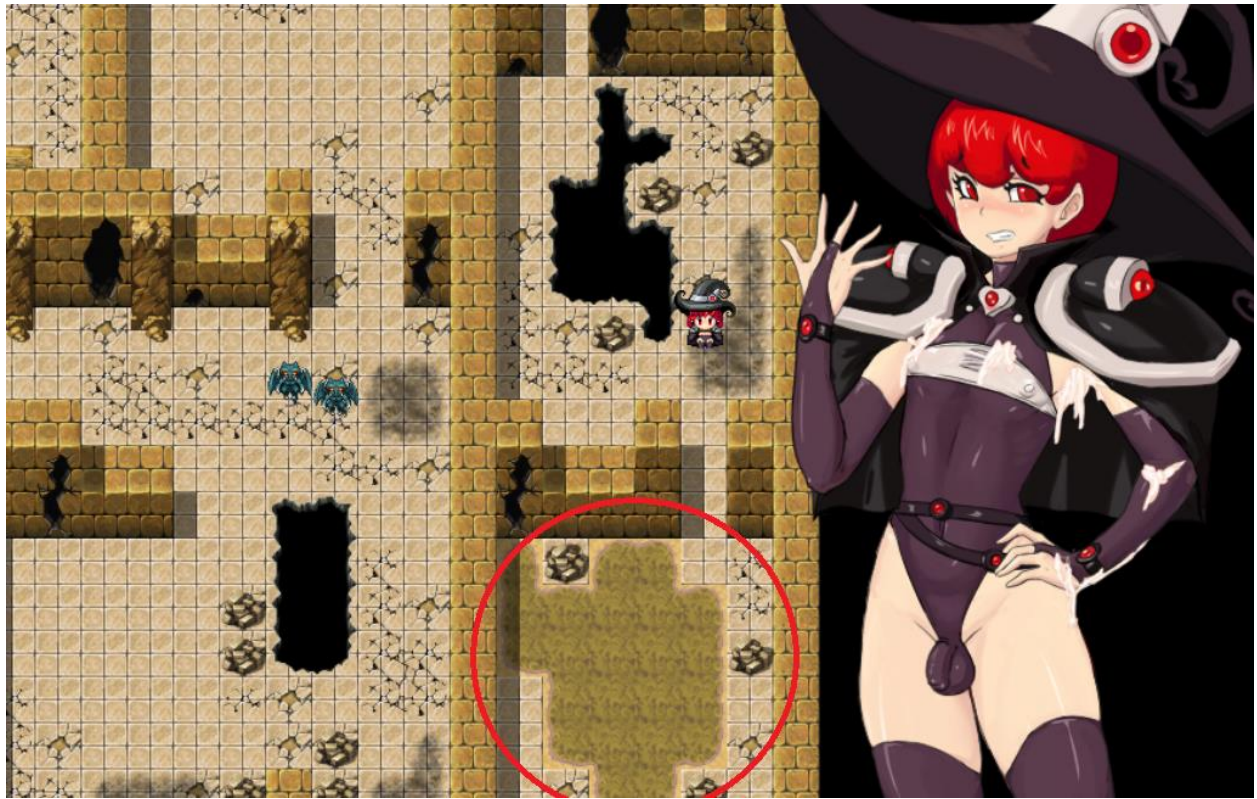

- 1) Located in the bottom left corner

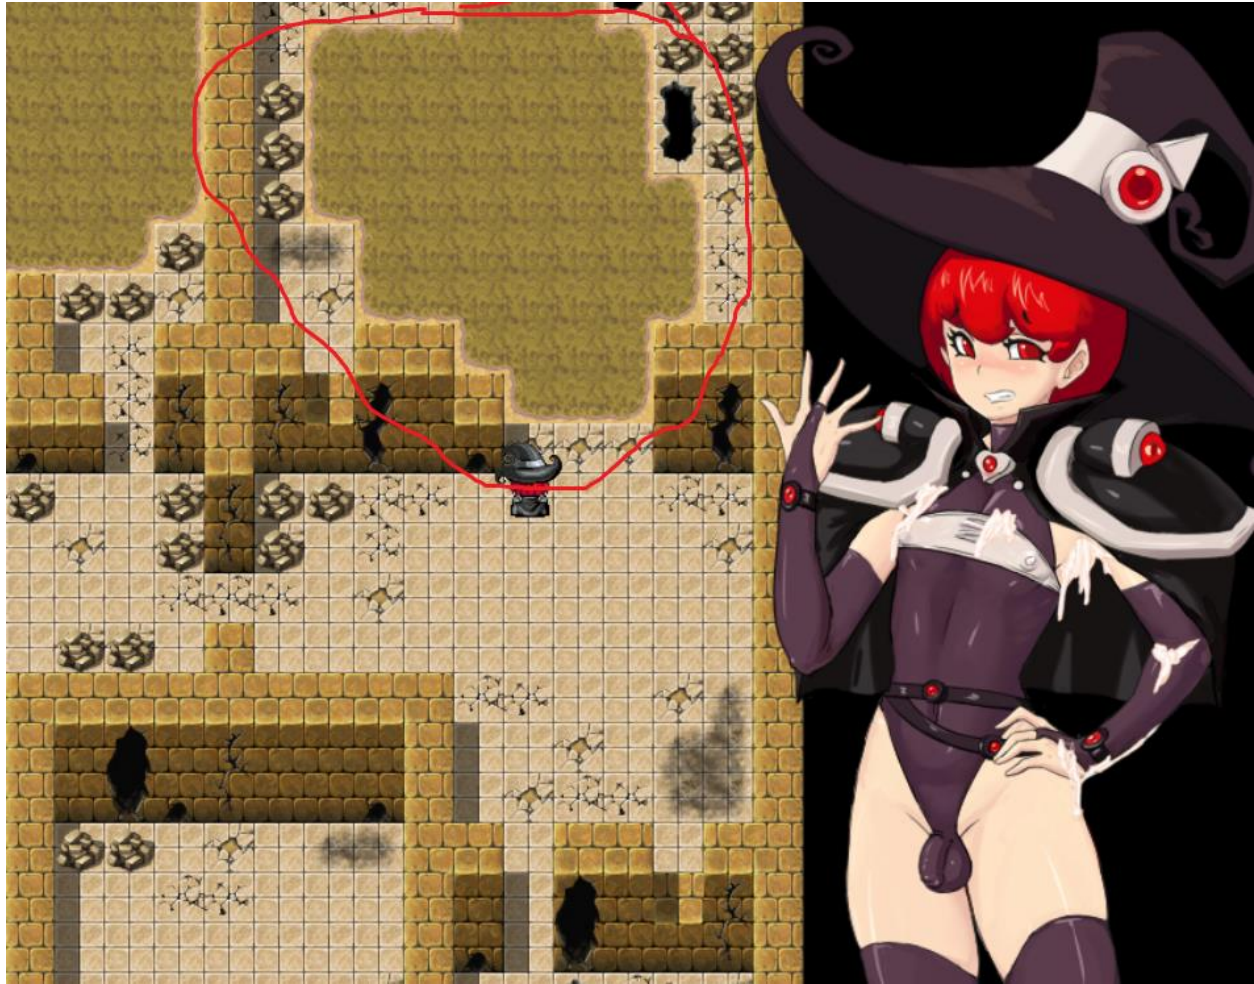

2 and 3) Located at the top of the dungeon (north)

*The bridge will not yet be complete at this point; don't panic

4) Located in the bottom right corner

And 5) Located in the top right corner

>Make a mental note of how these “holes” look

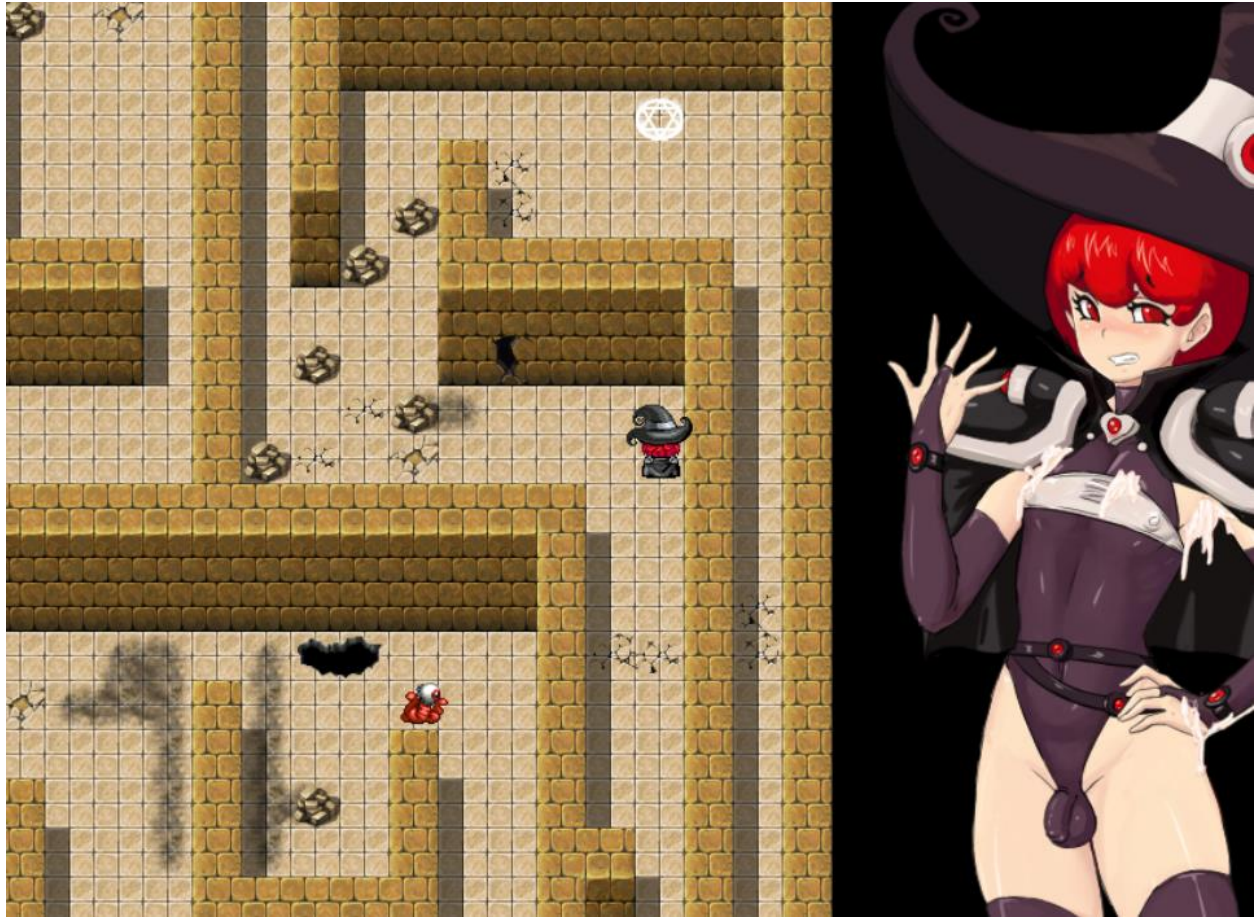

>Walk into each of them to fall to a new level

>When you’re in this new level, all you have to do is locate another hole and walk into it (again it has the same appearance as these holes and it is usually located in the bottom of the maze), and you will be teleported to a switch room which will look like this:

>All you have to do is activate the switch and teleport back. Repeat this process for all five holes, and the bridge at the very north of the original level will take you to the boss.

>Please note that the 5th hole is slightly different (top right hole): and the exit will look like this (a standard teleporter) below. And it won't take you to the switch room.

>Cross the bridge, link the portal, and get ready for the boss

>I was level 39 when I fought this one. It's a bitch and a half. First thing is make sure you have full health and mana on entering. Make sure you have probably about 5 Hi Potions, Mana Potions, and mending kits. Start of by using Dragon Slave to kill those imps. Use it again if there are any stragglers. Then spam Gaav Flame on medusa. <Now take your max health, if you are down 1000 >. When Medusa starts powering up, it is going to petrify you for 5 turns. So use a Hi Potion. Make sure you are at full health when she petrifies you. It is then going to summon some imps to attack you too. They are going to tear your clothes. Don't use a mending kit yet. Use Dragon Slave to kill those little bastards. Then use your mending kit, heal up, and attack Medusa if you get a chance but you probably won't. It's going to power up again immediately, so you're going to have to repeat the process. Keep your health full before Medusa stones you, and when you get out of it hit Medusa and the imps with Dragon slave, heal up after. Eventually Medusa will die.

>Choose the option "Use butt"

>You'll be transported home and then to the casino to get your passport. You get three new spell slots.

>Go to an adventurer's guild, talk to the guy at the front for your money and head downstairs.

>Unlock to Astral Magic spells, and then leave the third slot open for now. We're going to see if we can find the person to teach Holy magic.

>SIDE QUEST TIME BABY

>Go back to your home to and find the green haired guy in the corner

>Choose "Look"

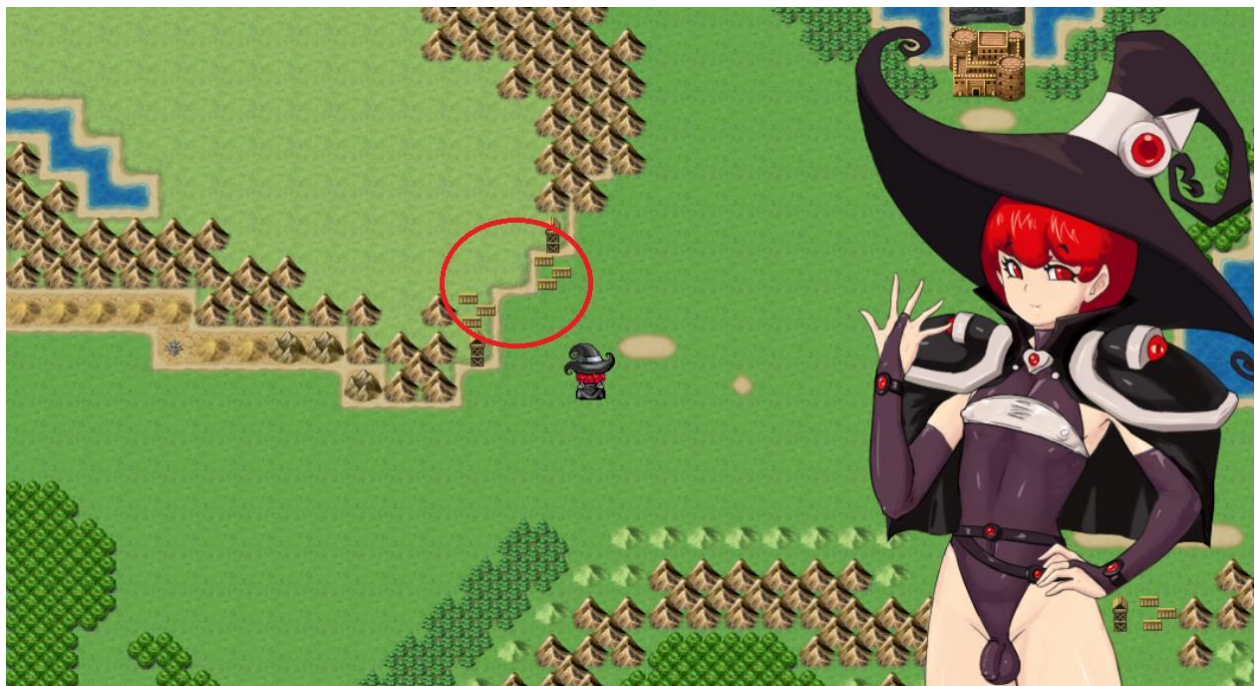

>Find him in the next part of town and repeat until you find him in the middle and he teases your nipples. It's not a scene but your lust goes up

>Okay now go into the pub/inn and read the sparkly note that says they are hiring. Talk to the guy behind the counter. (Again, we are in your hometown Petile)

>Should I ask the owner for a waitress job? Yes

>Get through the scene, go home, take a nap in bed, then come back to the pub and talk to him to do the waitress job again if you want (it's repeatable)

>Now exit your hometown and head north through this passage now that we have a passport:

>Go to the town in this new area Plae

>Proceed to the adventurer's guild there, and go to the top floor

>You'll talk to a girl who tells you the headmaster can't be reached, so head down 1 story and interact with the book with exclamation point in the library. Do the same with the next 2 books.

>Leave the guild and go through the north exit of the town to arrive at the castle

>Go inside, go up the stairs directly in front of you, and go south onto the balcony with the blonde dragon boy. Agree to fight, lose, and you get the Dragon H scene

>Now go back to him and fight to win. This is a hard battle. Gaav Flame does the most damage so use that. When your health gets low use your Recovery spell. He teaches you a Holy Magic spell that we saved our slot for.

>Go back inside and talk to the guy sitting on the throne. You'll be kicked out.

>Go to the pub and talk to the guards at the table here:

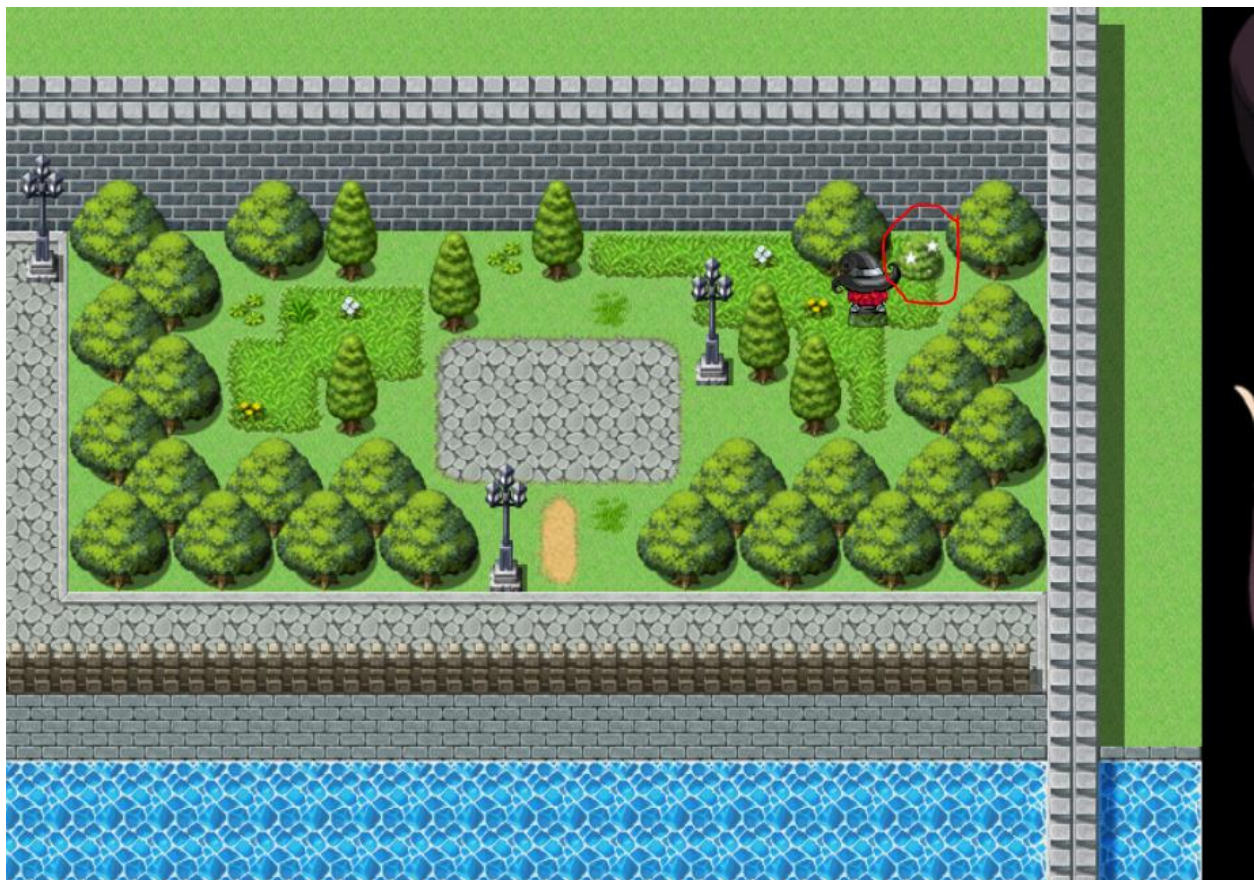

>Exit the pub and go through the right exit of the town to get into the slums

>Enter the building with the barred windows on it (the only building you can enter), and talk to the guard behind the front desk

>I don't think it matters what you tell the guard your relationship with the thief is. I chose wife

>Talk to the thief, and let him rub it between your butt cheeks

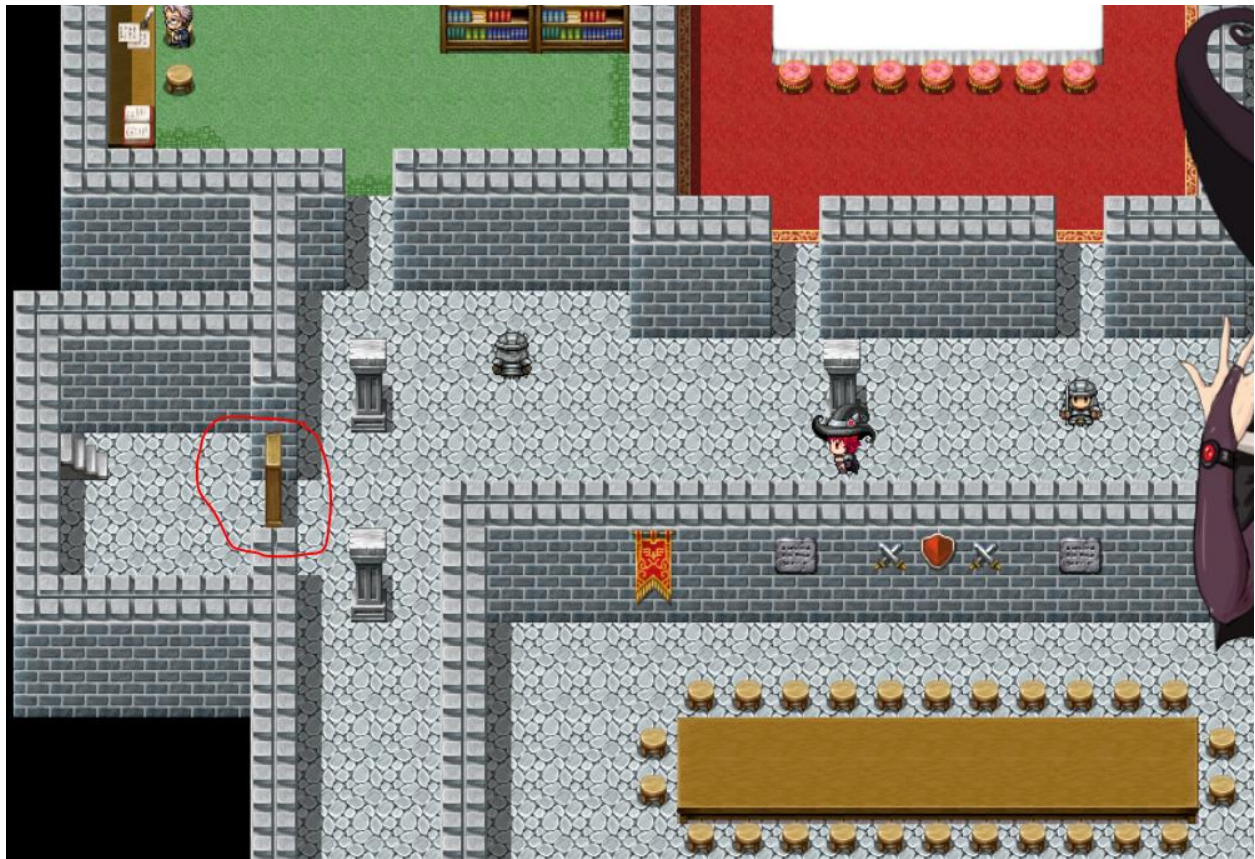

>Exit the jail, and go North like you're going to the castle. Except instead go right and interact with the bush in that batch of grassy area pictured here:

>Go North along that small grassy walkway and interact with the rock to move it and reveal a staircase

>Go inside and save your game. If a guard sees you, you will be thrown outside and have to walk back through that passageway

>Go left and interacted with that door: (this one)

>Now go into the room in the top right. You will hear some conversation between maids: (this room here)

>Make sure to save constantly. We're following the maid around

>As a hint, you're often going to need to hide behind those pillars to keep out of view of a guard while you wait for another to turn

- >Now go two rooms to the left (green carpet, books)
- >Now go to the center room with the long table and many stools
- >Now go back to the starting room (top middle, red carpet)
- >Now the maid opens the door you need and you are transported near it
- >Go through it
- >Go up the stairs and head right to the king's bedroom (green bed). Take the sword off the night stand and you will get a message about taking the King's Heirloom
- >Now let one of the guards catch you and throw you out of the castle
- >Leave town through the south exit to get back to the world map
- >Okay now before we end the version let's get back to side quests
- >Go back to Suna town (town in the east)(desert)(also if you open your inventory it tells in the bottom left where you are)
- >Talk to the sailor at the pier and he tells you he's waiting on his captain
- >Go to the tavern
- >Talk to this guy:

>He says he wants souvenirs from monsters so you need a semen vial from 9 different monsters: I used slime, fairy, demon wolf, ghost, doppelganger, haunted armor, imp, tentacle, and lamia milk

>Go back to the pier in Suna town and talk to the captain standing there

>Ready to sail> Yes

>Go into the orc camp with the sparkles

>Interacted with the sparkly open box

>Lose the fight with this priest

>Agree to take his offer

>Go to the orc camp to the north

>Get into a battle with the orcs, use a love potion, and lose to get the h scene. Or whatever method you want to lose. From then on avoid the orcs point of views.

>Talk to this red skinned guy to the rightish area. He tells you about a whole in the chief's roof just north of where the red boy is:

>Go around the south side of this platform here, and go right and avoid lines of sight, then head north. Don't bother healing past your 1 health from losing the first time, this way you can die faster and load your save

>You'll see a white interactable circle on the left side of the chief's hut

>Okay before you step on that circle, heal up, clean up, mend your clothes, put your equipment back on, and weapons back on

>Now do it, you'll be fighting the orc chief. You want to win

>Use Dragon Slave to kill his underlings quick and when they respawn, then use Gaav Flame and/or Chaotic Disintegrate repeatedly to kill the chief. Heal if needed.

>CHOOSE "RIGHT!" to get the H scene

>Pick up the manuscript on the bars of gold right to the left of the sleeping chief

>Leave the camp through the north exit

>Go back to the tent and talk to the priest. Equip the demon talisman

>Click on the boat to get back to Suna

- >Walk over toward the Casino and you'll see the Casino boss being arrested by Plea
- >Go inside the Casino and check his office in the top left room
- >Interact with the exclamation point in the chest in his office
- >Leave Suna, go to Plea (town in the northwest), go through the east exit to the slums, you will see a cutscene
- >Go inside the jail and talk to the catburgler
- >Leave the jail and go left a little
- >Interact with the hole in the wall

- >You'll be taken inside the prison
- >Ask inmates for directions until you can interact with a mob of a bunch of prisoners (Ask the inmate in the middle, then the one on the left). Click "Bother them" for the H scene

>To get to the boss ask the inmate for directions in the middle, then left, then left, then right

>Talk to the boss in his cell

>You'll be taken to plea, move forward to the north exit to enter the castle

>You'll see a demon banishing cutscene and the king will generously "allow" you to take the sword you need to go north that we totally didn't already steal earlier

>Go into the top left corner of this room, you'll see a staircase down, follow it

>There's another staircase down. Follow that too, and interact with the cell door. You'll see an h scene and the king will talk to you again

>Leave the castle

>Go into your menu and go over to key items

>Click on claire's bible piece (any of them) and click combine

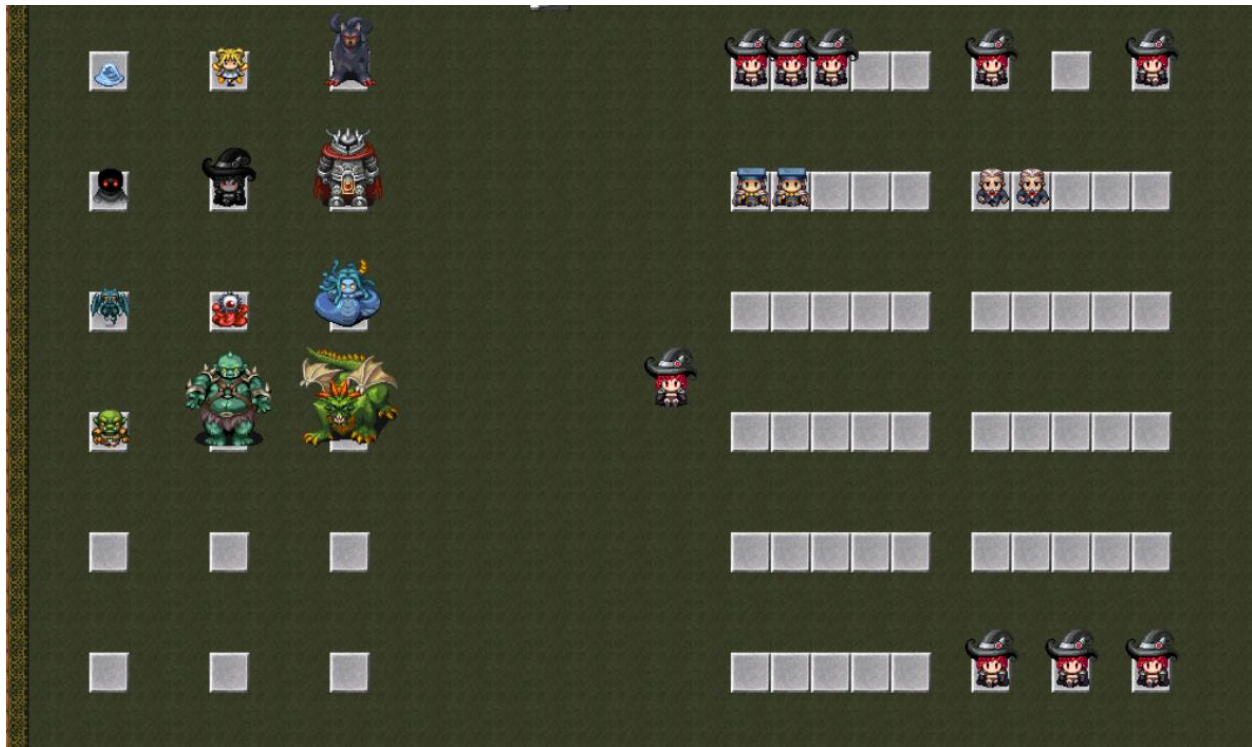

>Go back into inventory and use Claire's Bible to learn spell Ragna Blade (it doesn't appear to matter if there is a slot available or not)

>Go to your hometown Petile's adventurer's guild

>On the first floor talk to this guy to do a lecture and get an h scene:

- >Go home and sleep in your bed and come back
- >Interact with this guy again and do another lecture for the second h scene. When your character asks “Should I put a stop to this?” say “Not Important”. When your character says “This is going too far” say “But I must finish the lecture...”
- >Once this scene ends leave the guild, go home and sleep
- >Now go to the inn (still hometown) and work as a waiter by interacting with the guy behind the bar counter. When a customer asks “can I touch?” say “Sure..wait,what?”. When Man2 asks “Mind if I take a look at your titties?” say “Ugh, suit yourselves!”
- >Leave the inn/pub and go home. Go down into your basement. If you’ve followed this guide, all of the h scenes should be unlocked:

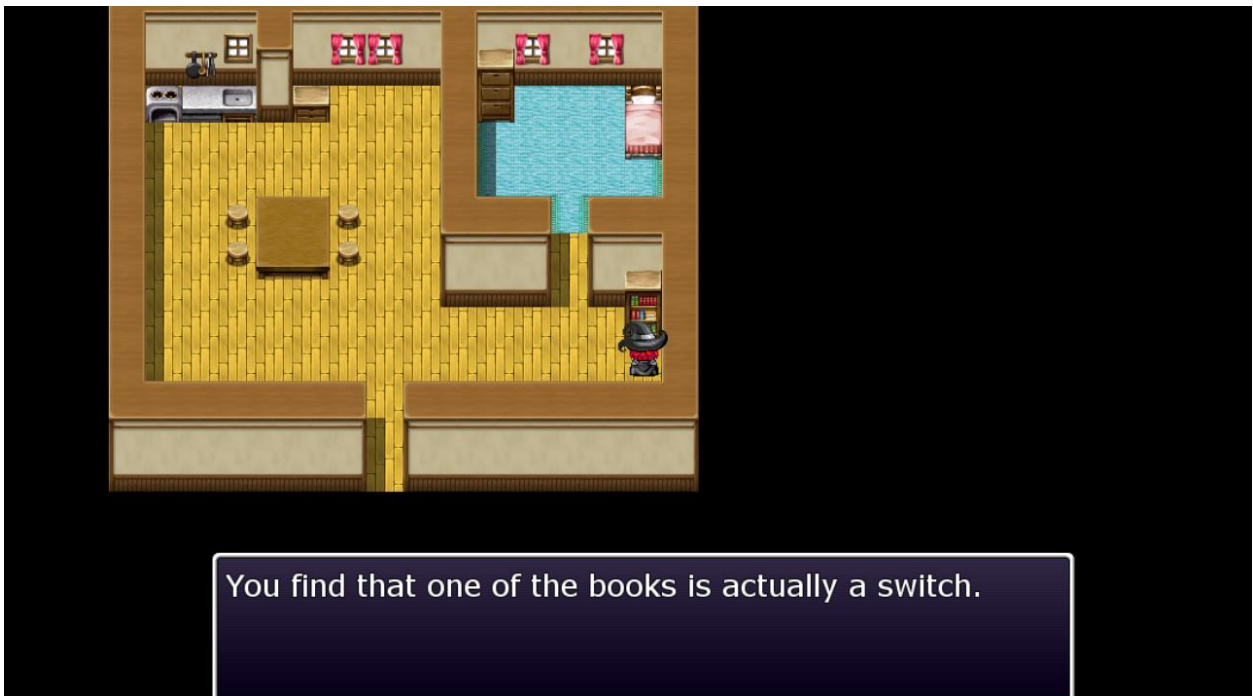

>Get into the world map by leaving town

>Misc: There are mana ups hidden in the world map. I forgot to put it into the guide and I already got them so I can't show you. Just hit the interact button on various corners and edges of the map until you find them. Go into your inventory and use them to increase your overall magic amount

>Misc: I'm not sure if it's a glitch or a secret. But in your hometown (Petile). If you go to this house:

>You can interact with the bookcase here and activate the switch:

>Then go down the stairs and keep interacting with the chest for free unlimited LOVE POTIONS!

>To leave go back up the stairs and walk into this spot to get back inside the house:

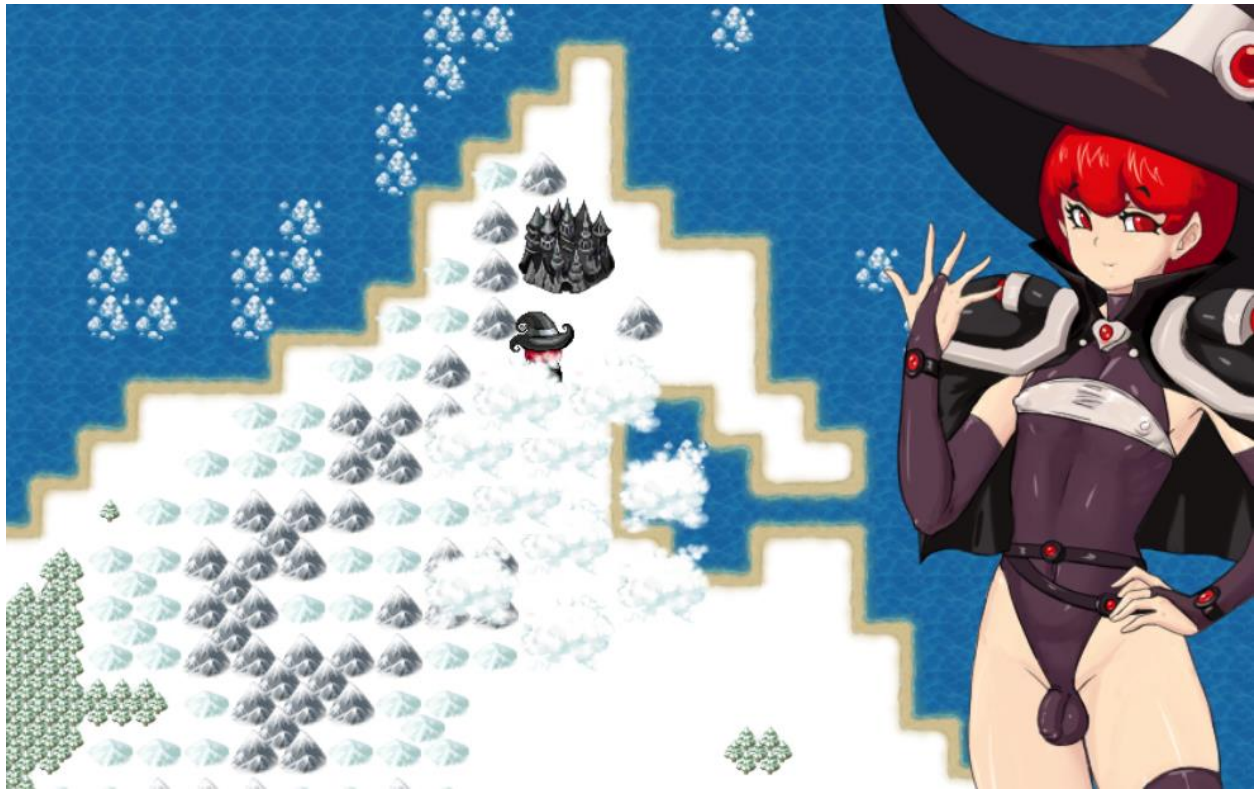

>Now leave this house and go back to your own house thieving scum

>Go down to your basement and keep a save there so you don't forget where the gallery is

>Now leave your house and exit this town through any exit

>Now head far North to the grey castle in the snow (north of the town of Plea):

>Go up the stairs and talk to the person in the hat.

>Save your game here and wait for the next version

END OF VERSION 0.5.2!
