

- Foreword -

Before this guide starts I, and the creator of this game, NaughtyRoad, want to encourage any of you to play the game how it is meant to be played, going in blind and interacting with the world of Light of my Life how you would like to interact with it, creating your own personal character that will take care of these two incredible girls and their unique personalities. Hunting for all points isn't a necessity.

The following words of NaughtyRoad himself should explain it a bit further in-depth:

'I don't want this game to be about coining up your love interest until lewds spill out of her slot, but more about finding a mode where you can decide if you're honest or nice or petty, just because you felt like one or the other, and still have the game validate that with some acknowledgement about that choice. They make you feel involved with the conversation, but they won't make your wards want to suddenly fellate you because you just reached an arbitrary score.

points are (at this moment) there to give you feedback on what people think of your interactions, and tone the dialog to match your relationship. They will factor into alternative endings later on, but I wouldn't worry about that now.

Love points are capped at 10 to make Love point hunting redundant, there will never be a condition in the game that checks for anything over 10. Just go with the reactions you feel are most appropriate and let things shake out.'

With that being said, you can find the point guide below if you desire to use it.

And last but not least, please help the developer with this amazing project by supporting through any donation of some kind, or just by playing it and giving him feedback/reviews of his work. - The Guide -

First of all, I want to address that I only covered the crucial parts of the game where points can be gained, or lost. How you interact with the girls between those mentioned scenes below is up to you, you choose whatever choices are available. Read the first mentioned scene below beforehand and everything should be smooth-sailing after that.

The '---' between sections indicates that those scenes are on the next day(s).

The first possible point gain starts after the dinner scene.

Stroking Denise's hair gives you a Love point, giving her a total of 7 Love points.

After Denise's bathroom scene go back to the living room instead of going straight to work if you don't want to miss some more bonding time with her.

At the store use the first choice (The second choice will make you use the first anyway.)

During the scene with Macy she will get one Anger point, setting them at a total of 7, but don't worry about that now.

During couch time with Denise reassure her to subtract one Anxiety point, giving her 4 in total.

When Macy asks if you have time choose 'Of course', if not you will miss a point and dialogue.

The conversation with Macy gives you a love point, setting her total at 5 love points.

During Denise's bathroom scene, NOT being understanding gives her another Anxiety point, thus setting those back to 5 in total.

Uh-oh, something happened with Denise at school, giving her a big, plus 4 boost to her Anxiety. You can't avoid this so don't panic thinking that you have done something wrong. This sets her Anxiety total to 8 points (If you have been following this guide.)

Be understanding with Denise in the car to give yourself a Love point, setting the total to 8 points.

During couch time with Denise stick to your decision to subtract an Anxiety point, setting them back to a total of 7 points. This choice also saves you from losing a Love point with Macy later on and her keeping Denise home despite your decision.

Kiss Denise's head during the bed scene to gain another Love point, setting the total to 9 points.

And here we have Brooke coming into play, rejecting obviously denies you interacting with her, accepting her invitation give you an Appreciation point with Brooke, setting the total to 5 points. Decide for yourself if you are interested in Brooke, or not, for now the interactions with her won't affect the relationships with Denise and Macy, FOR NOW...

During couch time with Denise cheer her up and then giving her another round of tickling will give you a Love point, setting them at a grand total of 10 points!

If you agreed to get drinks with Brooke AND tell her about the emergency, choose 'Don't worry' during one of the choices in the conversation to prevent yourself from losing an Appreciation point.

During dinner Macy will gain a, unavoidable, Anger point, after that choose to remain calm so you won't lose a Love point with her as well.

Don't choose 'I won't force her to stay' otherwise you will gain an Anxiety point with Denise.

Choosing 'watch some more' during the spy scene will open some different dialogues later.

During the bathroom scene with Denise you will get to the choice of massaging her breasts, doing so will give you a huge negative point reduction to her Love points, a whopping 6 points. So don't go with that route, instead, being reluctant with Denise about your sessions in the next few days' results in her working her side of the conversations harder.

While having the paintings discussion with Denise you can compliment her butt if you have over 7 Love points with her (which you should have if following this guide). But don't over-do it otherwise you will lose a Love point.

Complimenting Macy during the movie can give her 1 Love point if her total is less than 5 points, if it's 5, or above 5 points, you won't gain anything. Compliment her anyway.

The morning bathroom scene removes 1 Anxiety point from Denise automatically, setting her total to 6 points.

Complimenting Denise while observing the paintings give her 1 Love points, there are two opportunities but it's only possible to gain 1 Love point.

Questioning Denise when she wants to go home gives her 1 Anxiety point, so avoid that by supporting her request.

While having dinner you will get the question whether you like Brooke or not, answering 'Yes' will give Macy 1 Anger point, answering 'No' subtracts 1 Anger point setting the total to 7 Anger points. Lying to her might not be the best idea if you have been interested in Brooke, but for now there are no negative consequences.

During the bathroom scene with Denise, if your Love points are higher than 7 you have the option to talk with her about intimacy. Don't choose 'Uncomfortable' when doing this since this gives her an Anxiety point. Completing the talk positively rewards you with an automatic 1 Anxiety point reduction, setting the total to 5 Anxiety points.

Helping Brooke allows you to continue her path and see additional scenes with her. Refusing to give her help obviously does the opposite.

Having a go at the copy machine gives an Appreciation point with Brooke, setting the total to 6 points. This only happens if you agreed to help her.

The conversation with the 'S3' only happens when you agreed to help Brooke. Try to have decent conversations with each of the ladies so that you will gain points with them (Their, and Brooke's, reactions should hint you if you are right or wrong.), you can always use your scroll wheel to rewind if you have made a bad choice which resulted in losing points. Doing all conversations right will give you 3 additional Appreciation points with the 'S3', setting their total to 6 points.

Having the perfect conversation with the 'S3' also gives Brooke an Appreciation point at the end of your talk with her, setting her total to 7 points.

During the phone call with the helpdesk you can choose whatever you like, patiently follow along or act like an asshole. Pick your poison 😊

If you helped Brooke you will get an optional sexual encounter with her, Marv the copy machine joins too!

Too bad you get cock-blocked by the 'S3' but at least you get an Appreciation point with them, setting their total to 7 points.

Hugging and reassuring Macy at the police office will gain you a Love point with her, setting her total to 6 points.

After having the quiet dinner with the girls ask Denise about it during your couch time with her, be supportive with her and you will gain another Love point which won't matter when following this guide since you already maxed her Love points to 10 in total.

Before starting chapter three you will be presented with a choice to turn off choices that will lock you out of the paths for both Macy and Denise. I personally would advise to NOT lock out their paths since they are the main characters and probably the reason why you play the game in the first place, locking their paths will also greatly reduce the amount of content that you will be able to discover in the future.

During the dinner scene you will be able (If you have enough Love points with Macy, which you should have by following this guide.) agree with Macy calling you by the 'Title' that you have given yourself at the start of the game.

During the beginning of the bar scene with Macy her Anger points will get lowered by two automatically during your conversation with her, setting her Anger points at 4.

Keeping dancing at the bar will give you a conversation with Macy which you will be able to answer with 'You' when you mention you keep thinking about someone, this will add 1 Love point to Macy setting her total to 7 points.

The perfect night with Macy takes a turn for the worse at the end of it, setting her Anger level back up with 3 points to a total of 7 points.

The bathroom scene with Denise WILL have a lock out option if you didn't turn it off at the start of chapter three. This guide follows a play through with the choice to be never locked out of their paths so this will be the last time I will mention any choices that would make this possible.

Make sure to promise to try your best with Macy when Denise asks about this during the car ride, not promising this will give Denise an Anxiety point.

During shopping buy a box of candy for Macy, she liked them before so you can probably use them again.

The 'S3' will also come into play again during this chapter, certain things I will describe through this guide will only apply to you if you also follow their route, if you don't you can probably skip most things related to the 'S3'. But remember, also going along with their route will probably affect the ones you have with Macy, Denise and maybe even Brooke in the future...

During the conversation and admitting that you were at the bar with Macy will give you an Appreciation point with the 'S3' setting their total Appreciation points to 8. This choice is universal so when you are NOT on their path this will also give them an Appreciation point. Who knows, maybe being honest and positive with them will also benefit you in the future even without being on their path?

Also, if you aren't on their path this will be the first time you meet them, being dismissive towards them will prevent you from seeing any sexual encounter with them in the future, which might be a good thing if you are on a Macy/Denise path only.

During the car scene with Macy DON'T offer her the candy you bought for her, if you do it will be dismissed immediately and lowers Macy's Love points that she has for you.

If you talk to Macy in the kitchen, then make sure not to say sorry to her or to point out her language since those two options will give her an Anger point. Staying silent at the end will result in no points being added to her Anger points.

When masturbating with Denise massaging you during the bathroom scene she will ask the question if she should stop massaging you, answering with that she is making it even better will give her a Love point, which we won't be needing since her Love points already reached the maximum amount. But hey, answer her honestly anyway, remember that choices also possibly change the dialogue in the future.

The beginning of the car scene with Macy will automatically lower her Anger points by 1, then answering her next question with 'Me too' will lower her Anger points once more with 1, setting the total of her Anger points to 5. Also make sure to offer her the candy this time, since this time she will really appreciate it.

If you are on the Brooke path you will get a sexual encounter with her during your work time, declining this will lower Brooke's Appreciation points by 1. When being intimate with her make sure to notice 'certain' people spying on both of you in the background.

Another 'S3' encounter, helping Sierra will lead you to a possible sexual encounter, even if you are not on the 'S3' path when you haven't been really dismissive of them. When the scene shifts to the toilet room you can obviously decline the whole situation for no penalty at the first choice by choosing 'I can't', or play along. You will see that the scene will take a rather specific 'turn' when you play along with Sierra.

Performing at least two requests during the scene will give drop the Appreciation points of the 'S3' with 3 points at the end of the scene, so if you want points don't do more than ONE request. Refusing at least one request will enable you to 'show her another way' for 1 Appreciation point with the 'S3'. Not doing any requests will also give you 1 Appreciation point at the end of the scene with the 'S3' for a total of 9 Appreciation points.

Declining Denise's request during the bathroom scene will give her an Anxiety point, so don't do that. After asking 'What do you like about it?' and then answering with 'I like it too.' will give Denise another Love point, again, not doing anything since we reached the maximum points but it can possibly change dialogue in the future.

Don't be scared by the scene with the 'S3', Light of my Life will never have blackmail scenes/ revenge-porn scenes.

When being confronted with how to ask Brooke to eat dinner at your place you can answer with 'Heartfelt' if you want an Appreciation point that will set her total Appreciation points to 8. Or you can simply invite her out of politeness when not having an interest in her.

No matter what you do, Macy will get angry when you take Brooke to your home to eat dinner with you and the girls. This conversation automatically adds one Anger point to Macy, setting her total points to 6.

Since we are on Macy's path we won't push her away, this gives her 1 Love point setting her total to 8 Love points and also reducing her Anger points with 3, setting those to a total of 6. Besides, who would push her away in the first place?

During the computer scene in the morning with Denise you will get 1 Love point added automatically if you are below a total 6 of Love points (which you should not be if following this guide).

During the couch scene with Denise make sure to reassure her if you are both on her and Macy's paths, not doing so will up her Anxiety points with 1.

After your relieving meat beat session in the bathroom with Denise make sure to tell her that she is the reason you shoot so many cream, this will gain you 1 Love point with her.

During the S3 encounter at the office's paper copier, if their Love points are below 3 you can use the option to make amends with them. This will reset their Love points to 4 so you can get it on with them again.

If you are on the Brooke route, and helped her with her schemes, she will ask if she can count on you once more, if you decline this it will lower her Love points with 1 AND end her route.

During the pre-dinner scene, agreeing to try Denise's food she made for you will get you 1 Love point IF those would be below a total of 6. Agree anyway because why not.

On the couch don't have second thoughts because this will lower Denise's Love points with 1, also, if her Love points are above 9 she will Lose 1 Anxiety point if you suggest doing some more with her. Loving them pays off, you see?

During the lunch you should be able to pick either a decaf coffee or fruit drink when following this guide, choosing between these two doesn't matter and it will benefit you later.

Once more you get a prep talk with Brooke if you agreed to help her, again, not going with her plan will reduce her Love points with 1 and end her route.

Then, if you are on the Brooke path, you have to convince the S3. If you aren't on Brooke's path but agreed to help her than you can ask the S3 for their help. This part does not apply when you disagreed to help her, obviously.

And here comes another big question from the S3, whether you are helping Brooke or not. They will ask you if you would help to cure Sara's 'itches'. Agreeing this will further their routes, denying their proposal stops you from interacting with one of the S3 members on a lewd level once more.

If you agreed to help Brooke, are on both Denise and Macy's path, and follow the healthy diet choice then the end of the lewd scene will have some special dialogue. You will also receive 1 Love point for Brooke because you helped her.

During dinner you will receive 1 Love point for Denise if you followed her healthy drink suggestions, only if her Love points were less than 9. If you didn't follow her drinking advice, or lie about drinking it, you will lose 1 Love point with Denise.

On the couch, if you don't choose say nothing twice and then choose to be understanding and say that you love her you will gain 1 Love point with Denise if her total are greater than 7.

After the massage scene in the bathroom with Denise, you can gain 1 Love point by asking her if she is uncomfortable if your total with her is lower than 7 points.

If you agreed to help the S3 with their 'problems', you will continue their route with them. Suddenly changing your mind will reset their Love points to 1, and this will close their route for good. Saying that you look forward to it will gain you 1 Love point with the S3 if they were below 7 points.

If you get the lewd scene with Sara then be sure that you made the following dialog choices: saying you looked forward to it, saying you want to do it, offering help, telling her not at all when she has doubts about her appearance and telling her it was hot at the end. This will gain you 1 Love point with the S3 later on. Don't joke about hurting the baby, this will make you lose 1 Love point with the S3.

During the couch talk with Denise you can gain 1 Love point by saying it's not embarrassing, if her total points are 7 or lower. If they are higher than 7 then choose the following choices: It's the person and Looked hot to gain 1 Love point with her.

If you are on Macy's route you will get an automatic Love point when you pick her up from work.

During the bathroom massage with Denise, if you had some of the encounters with Brooke, lying about them to Denise twice will reduce 1 Love point with her, if you had one or more encounters with Brooke, and didn't lie about them you will gain 1 Love point with her.

If you did all the right things with Sara, like I mentioned, you will gain 1 Love point with the S3 during this scene.

Macy automatically loses 3 Anger points during the scene between you two, whether you are on her path or not.

During the couch cuddle with Macy she can lose 1 Anger point if you answer her with I will, only if her Anger points are higher than 3 in total. You can also gain 1 Love point if you tell her that you love her too, only if her Love points are lower than 9 in total.

Once more during a cuddle session with Macy you can gain 1 Love point by choosing the following options: What is it? And Nonsense, only when her total Love points are less than 7.

During the airship bonus scene, if you had pinky sworn to support the game after chapter one, you now have the option to pinky swear again to boycott scammers. This will earn you 1 Love point with both Macy and Denise.

If you had an intimate encounter with both Sara and Sierra and helped Sara take off the pressure during her encounter, you get an extra scene here.

If you have had an intimate encounter with either Sara or Sierra, Zarah will offer one too. You can score points for responding 'I'd love to' when she propositions and then telling her she's a MILF, by responding 'That's hot' when she uses roleplaying names, agreeing to roleplay along, returning oral, and telling her it shows that she kept in shape. You can lose points for selecting opposite options, so don't do that. Scoring 3 or more gives a slightly dirtier climax scene.

If you followed these options, you will also get a Love point with the 'S3'.

During the talk with Brooke, if you told Macy you wanted to be serious with Brooke in chapter 4, and you accepted Zarah's offer, you'll lose 1LP with Brooke.

When talking to Denise on the couch, telling Denise 'you'll try' gives you 1 Love point if her Love Points are below 7.

When having a morning talk with Denise ask her what she dreamt of, if your Love points are higher than 7 with her you can offer her some advice that will lower her Anxiety points by 1.

At the breakfast cooking you can, only if you are on the exclusive Denise/Macy path AND have over 7 Love points with Denise, playfully smack Denise's butt.

Telling Denise that she has a lovely voice during the hiking will grant you 1 Love point with her if they are below a total of 7.

If you help Denise during her peeing scene, you will get an extra scene if your Love points with her are higher than 5. If following this guide (or having 7+ Love points with Denise.) you can gain 1 Love point by choosing 'Both' during the presented options. If her Love points are below a total of 7 you can choose the option 'Hugging' to gain 1 Love point with her.

During the nighttime bedroom scene if you are on the Macy and Denise exclusive path, you can gain 1 Love point with Macy, if her Love points are below 7, by choosing the 'I'd like that' option. If her Anger points are over 3 you can choose the 'Only if you want to' option to lower her Anger points with 1.

At the breakfast scene you will gain 1 Love point automatically with Denise, if hers are below a total of 7 AND you are on the Denise and Macy exclusive path.

When you are on the Denise and Macy path, telling Macy that she looks stunning, and doubling down after that, you will gain 1 Love point with Macy if they are higher than 7 in total. Doing this when she has below 7 Love points it will give 1 Anger point (So don't do this in that case) instead, tell her you can hardly see a thing to reduce 1 Anger point with her.

Telling Denise 'No need for that' will give you 1 Love point with her IF you have been complimenting her throughout the game so far. Having more than 5 Love points with her will also unlock an extra scene.

The hiking scene automatically reduces 1 Anxiety point from Denise.

During the fireplace scene, if you're on the Denise and Macy path you can get 1 Love point with Macy by choosing 'I'll never hurt you' if they are below 7 in total, choosing 'We'll never hurt you' will bring Macy's Love points to the same level as Denise's Love points (handy if you're really low on points).

The bedroom scene will be shorter if Macy's Love points are below 5. You will also get the option to possibly choose whether Macy is a virgin or not, gentlemen and ladies of good taste will of course go for the option that Macy is a virgin!

In the morning, if you are on the Denise and Macy path, if you ask Macy if she slept well, then 'say more', then ask her 'and you?', you will get 1 Love point for Macy.

During breakfast you will get asked about the girls having a bit of 'fur'. This is possibly a choice whether the girls have pubic hair or not, saying yes obviously favors this while declining it should do the opposite.

If Denise's Love points are above 5 you ask for a second kiss, giving you 1 extra Love point with her.

Denise will lose 1 Anxiety point if her Love points are above 5 during the campfire night scene, the same goes for Macy only she will gain 1 Love point.

- THIS IS CURRENTLY THE END OF THE GAME, UNTIL NEXT TIME! -
