This guy might be able to help Desiree or he might also be able to take advantage of her desperation.

Give her the card

Desiree: Oh thanks. Cause there is no way a big name like him could ever think my work is good, is that it?

I'm sure he just sees something special.

Maybe you should be careful.

Don't give her the card

It wasn't that Vivian didn't want Desiree to have this chance. Instead it was...

I just don't trust this guy.

Des should do this on her own.

Vivian wondered what the story was with Tara. She seemed so mysterious, so aloof, yet so dominating and in control.

I want to be confident like her

[Tara dom]

I liked how she just took control like that

It was an old thing of theirs, where Vivian would give her mom a kiss, supposedly granting her good luck. But they had not done it in years. Probably since before Vivian entered high school.

Alright

No time

Evaline's face seemed to sink at Vivian's mention of her parents, and while she could not even begin to understand what the situation was, that one look made it perfectly clear that they were not an option for her.

Vivian made her way over to her, Desiree so lost in thought she did not even notice her approach.

Comfort her

[Des affection points +1]

Don't smother her

Vivian was sure that would just take time but she could not be sure if that was time she needed to be alone so she could work out some things or if Vivian needed to spend that time with her and help her through it.

Want to sleep over at my place tonight?
