

Tips for Jaye and Mallory Polyamorous Ending

- Get nearly every available Jaye Love point. You need 95+ out of 97 possible points at the time the script checks, which is when you have sex with Jaye in the cabin in Chapter 9.
- Get as many Mal Love points as you can that don't require you giving up Jaye Love points. You need 80+ Mal points at the time the script checks (same time as above). Where many people mess up is looking at both sunbathing (1 missed Jaye point), telling Kaili you like both (1 missed Jaye point), or having morning 69 sex with Mal (2 missed points later on with Jaye since you are tired during sex). You only have a 2 point margin of error with Jaye's points, so you can do some of these things but not all of them.
- In Ch 6, when asked by Mal about the relationship, tell her you "thought it was about helping her". You can't be in an open or committed relationship with her.
- In Ch 6, when asked by Jaye about the relationship, tell her you "want it all". You need to be in a committed relationship with her.
- Don't cheat with anyone after committing to Jaye (the relationship talk mentioned above). This includes even non-penetrative stuff like grinding. Jaye and Mal are fine with you sleeping around before committing, however.
- In Ch 9, when Jaye is on the phone about her University problems, ask what's wrong and use the "I'd like to phone a friend" option.
- In Ch 9, after paintball and by the lake with Mal, tell her "I wish things were different".